Schwan Renamed President of Greenbelt Homes Board

by Al Skolnik

Greenbelt Homes, Inc. president Charles Schwan was reelected for another term at last Thursday's organization meeting of the new board. Schwan has been president since January 1964.

Elected as vice-president was Nat Shinderman, and as secretary, Steve Polaschik. John O'Reilly was reelected to the treasurer's post. All nominations were unanimous.

In a brief meeting, the board awarded fuel oil bids to Sinclair Refining Co. for No. 2 oil and to Humble Oil Co. for No. 2 oil. The price for No. 2 was less than that of last year and for No. 6 the same. These companies are the present suppliers.

The new hospitalization plan for GHI employees will go into effect June 1. The carrier chosen was Paul Revere Life Insurance Company whose quoted rate was 25 percent lower than that of the present insurer, Group Hospitalization, Inc. Paul Revere guaranteed its rate for two years. GHI pays 65 percent of the cost of the program; employees pay the balance.

The board approved expansion of the boat and trailer park facilities to double the present size. This program pays its own way through fees charged to renters of space.

GHI has informed the city that it will continue to pay one-third of the cost of the city's special zoning attorney and planning consultants.

The board agreed to meet once a month during June, July, and August—the 2nd Thursday of each month.

Charter Gov't Petition

Over 30 people throughout Greenbelt are now armed with petitions and information for the drive to put the question of charter government for Prince Georges County on the November ballot. 10,000 signatures must be obtained in order to bring this question to a referendum. The petition drive extends until July. The sponsoring organization is the Prince Georges Charter Study Committee of the Project Marlboro Home Rule Charter Committee.

Catholic Club News

The Catholic Club of Greenbelt is going to the Marine Drill at the Marine Barracks, 8th and I Sts., S. E., on Friday, June 3. Reservations must be made. Cars will leave St. Hugh's School at 7:30 p.m. Those interested should contact Liz Pels (474-5227).

Also on Saturday, June 4, the club is sponsoring a party in the Social Hall of the school. Time: 8:30 p.m. For more information call Cam Morris (474-5031). New members are invited.

Labor Day Festival Meeting

There will be a full meeting of representatives of all organizations wishing to participate in the 1966 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival on Wednesday, June 15 at 8 p.m. at the Youth Center.

This will be an important meeting to commence scheduling events and assigning booths. All organizations in Greenbelt are invited to participate in the 4-day Festival celebrating the end of the summer season.

City Notes

County Commissioner Frank Lastner has informed the city of the commissioners' approval of the installation of 6 mercury vapor lights at the intersection of Kenilworth and Greenbelt Rds. Installation will be made sometime this summer. The request for the lights came from the city of Greenbelt, but they will be placed there by county funds.

The sale of family passes for the municipal swimming pool is running about the same as for the month of May in 1962 and 1963—roughly about 250—and much ahead of the numbers for the two immediately preceding years. With the pool still very much under construction last year at this time, only 33 passes had been purchased. Definition of a family, as far as use of the passes is concerned, is parents or guardians and children living in the same household. It does not include visiting relatives.

Mosaic Art at Twin Pines

The Greenbelt Arts and Crafts Guild is sponsoring a very different type of show at Twin Pines. On display for the next two weeks are a number of mosaic works of a local Greenbelt resident, Elizabeth Marshall.

These are excellent examples of the craft which utilizes pebbles, broken glass, fossils, tiles, marbles and other miscellaneous material, fusing them into an integrated art form.

High Point High Points

Over 832 new voters registered during a voter-registration drive in the Springhill Lake Community Building and the Chestnut Hills Elementary School on May 14. Students from every curriculum and grade aided the registrants by driving sound trucks, distributing thousands of leaflets and offering free driver and babysitter service.

Through their efforts, 325 new voters registered from the Vansville (1st) and 507 from the Berwyn (21st) districts. The High Point drive accounted for more than half of the total 1525 new registered voters in Prince Georges County.

Some energetic students managed to extract a promise from one couple to register as soon as they returned to their native Delaware.

MNCPPC Told to Stress Master Plans Over Zoning

The Washington Post reported this week that the Prince Georges County Commissioners have told the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission to shift its concentration from zoning applications to the preparation of master plans.

The commissioners said that master plan development has stalled and that they could not adequately zone without broad-scale plans. They have received several hundred backlog zoning cases from the planners in recent weeks.

To weed out speculative rezoning applications, the commissioners are preparing to replace the flat $75 filing fee with a sliding scale based on acreage. The scale would range from $100 for zonings of less than an acre to $2,000 for 100 acres or more.

The commissioners also proposed an ordinance requiring applicants who withdraw a rezoning request after a planning staff report has been written to wait 18 months before submitting it again.

Commission Chairman Jesse S. Baggett is quoted by the Post as stating both changes are aimed at speculators who submit applications to test planners' reactions, and withdraw and resubmit them in six months if the initial report is unfavorable.

The county has scheduled a June 28 hearing on the proposed ordinances so that they can go into effect by July 1, the beginning of the next semi-annual filing period.

Court Paving, Squad Car Debated at Budget Hearing

A sparsely-attended public hearing on the municipal budget for 1966-67 revealed few disagreements last Tuesday night. The city council will hold final budget hearings on Wednesday, June 8, and Friday, June 10, at which time voting will take place on the individual items. The budget must be adopted by June 10.

One item that drew sparks was the $2,500 in the budget for pavement of Greenbelt Homes, Inc. service courts. Councilman Dick Pilski questioned whether this was a proper expenditure if the city didn't own the court property. The city had been informed that there was an implied dedication of the courts by GHI to the city and implied acceptance by the city. The city solicitor, however, has indicated that a good case could be made either way. The city receives some State gasoline tax revenue for maintenance of the roadways in the courts, and the city manager was asked to estimate what would be lost in revenue if the city no longer maintained the courts.

An undecided issue was whether to purchase a third squad car, as the budget requests, or to hire an extra policeman, as suggested by councilman Bill Hoff. Hoff felt that a foot patrolman would be especially useful at Beltway Plaza, Springhill Lake, and the Greenbelt Center. A member of the audience suggested a motorcycle as an alternative to the squad car.

Grading Operations Begun For State Roads Commission Bldg.

by Virginia Beauchamp

The collapse last Thursday of the tall brick chimney of the old municipal sewage disposal plant at the intersection of Kenilworth Ave. and Crescent Rd. signaled the start of grading operations for the construction of a $780,000 office building at that site. Within five minutes after the destruction of the chimney under an explosive charge, bulldozers and other heavy equipment were clearing out the area. The building itself had been razed a week earlier by more conventional means.

DePaul to Assist Brooks In Lawsuit

Joseph DePaul, city zoning attorney, has been retained as co-counsel with city solicitor Thomas Brooks to handle the covenant and related suits arising out of the development of the vacant land. At present legal action has been instituted or is being planned against developer Charles Bresler for violating covenants and agreements in connection with Charlestowne Village, and to secure parkland through condemnation proceedings.

Last week the city filed suit against Bresler in Prince George's Circuit Court, charging that the developer backed out of a promise to give the city 3.33 acres of parkland. According to the suit, Bresler agreed to donate the land if the city would intercede with the county commissioners to grant apartment zoning for the 50-acre Charlestowne Village.

The zoning application was filed in early 1962, the suit said, and Bresler asked of Greenbelt's Mayor and Council "a favorable recommendation directed to (the County Commissioners) for approval."

"As an inducement," the suit said, Bresler "offered to impose certain restrictive covenants on land and to convey to the city a parcel of land containing 3.33 acres, the intended result being to limit the intensity of building thereon."

Later, according to the suit, Greenbelt "fully performed its obligation" by sending the recommendation to the County and the zoning was granted in June 1962. Since then, Bresler has not given Greenbelt the land, although he agreed to do so within two years, the city said.

DAV Meeting June 9

Maryland City Chapter 23 of the Disabled American Veterans, will hold their next regular meeting on June 9, at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Hall, Greenbelt Rd.

Mr. Thomas B. Coll, a Special Agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has kindly consented to be a guest speaker at this meeting. His topic will concern Americanism.

His speech is scheduled for 9 p.m. and the public is invited to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear him speak on a subject which is of great importance to all Americans.

Refreshment will be served after the meeting.

Poetry Hour Family Night

The Monday and Friday Poetry Groups, and their families, will meet together for the final program of the year on Friday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Center School.

A film on the American poet, Robert Frost, will be featured. The children will have an opportunity to recite their own poems and will receive anthologies of the poems written during the year.

Occupying the new one-story, red brick office building will be District 3 (Montgomery and Prince Georges counties) of the Maryland State Roads Commission. The Greenbelt site was chosen as being as close as possible to the midpoint of the Beltway within their jurisdiction.

From 70 to 75 State Roads Commission personnel will occupy the building, though probably only as many as 30 will work there full-time. More than half will be field workers, using the headquarters building only as their base of operations. In addition to Roads Commission personnel, the College Park post of the Maryland State Police will occupy a small office suite within the building. At present they are housed in a building at the University of Maryland.

District 3 Functions

Chief among the District 3 offices of the State Roads Commission to occupy the building will be that of the District 3 Engineer, who is in charge of operations, maintenance, and new construction of highways in the area. The District Right of Way Section, which handles purchases of land for new highways, will also have offices here. In addition, the regional laboratory, which performs tests of materials for construction work, and two lawyers—one for each county—will be housed here. In all, there will be about 20 rooms, only 6 or 7 of which will have individual occupants. One large room will house as many as 20 workers.

Construction Details

Designed by the architectural firm of Bucher, Myers and Associates of Washington, D. C., the flat-roofed, one-story building will be constructed of brick and precast concrete. Except for the laboratory, it will be fully air conditioned. (Certain testing functions of the laboratory prohibit air conditioning in that room.) Gas heat will warm the building in winter. A parking lot adjacent to the building will accommodate 130 vehicles, none of which will be heavy equipment. Only office functions of the Roads Commission will be housed here, a spokesman for the Commission stressed.

Designs for the building were so made as to allow for future expansion, if that should become desirable. At such a time the parking lot would be relocated further westward, where the present municipal warehouses now stand. These will be razed eventually, though the city of Greenbelt has been granted the right to occupy them until January, 1967.

John Scheibel Contractors of Camp Springs, Md., has been hired to construct the building, for which the target date is January, 1967. A ground-breaking ceremony has been tentatively set for Wednesday of next week.

The Police Blotter

Officer Paul I. Reamy, who has been recuperating from injuries he received May 10 while arresting a suspect at the Beltway Plaza has returned to light duty. Reamy has received several citations for meritorious action in a letter to Greenbelt Police Chief William Lane, Arthur A. Marshall, Jr., State's Attorney for Prince Georges County wrote: "Speaking for myself, and likewise speaking for the Prince Georges County Grand Jury, we would like to commend Officer Paul I. Reamy for the courage and self-restraint displayed..." Reamy also received commendations from the National Police Officers Association for excellent felony arrest and from the Honor Legion of the Police Hall of Fame for having been wounded in the line of duty.

Special Meetings For Consideration of 1966-67 Budget

Wed., June 8 - 8 p.m.

Fri., June 10 - 8 p.m.

Deeds, Not Words

Last week's Washington Post reported that the county commissioners have told the Maryland National Capital Park and Planning Commission to shift its concentration from zoning applications to the preparation of master plans so that the county commissioners could adequately pass on zoning requests.

We concur wholeheartedly with these sentiments. Greenbelt's own Master Plan was adopted by the city council in March 1965 and forwarded to the county commissioners for their consideration in connection with the Area 13 North plan prepared by the MNCPPC for the College Park-Greenbelt area. The county commissioners, in turn, returned the Area 13 plan back to MNCPPC with instructions for reduction in densities. Except for an October 1965 report in the metropolitan press that the MNCPPC technical staff has approved a new Area 13 plan that concurs substantially with the city's own Master Plan, nothing further has been heard on the matter.

We would be much more disposed to become enthusiastic about the action of the county commissioners if we did not recall that only three months ago the county commissioners stood aside to let the County Board of Education gut the Greenbelt Master Plan by approving a senior high school on parcel 2 (the area between Greenbelt Homes Inc. and the Baltimore-Washington Parkway).

It must be remembered that both the Area 13 plan and the city's own master plan called for the senior high school to be placed on the site near the Capital Beltway (parcel 15). The city and citizen groups appealed to the county commissioners to uphold the master plans for this area by making known their disapproval of the school board's choice, but to no avail.

Similarly, in July 1965 the county commissioners approved a commercial zoning petition for a regional shopping center on the Golden Triangle, when both the Area 13 plan and the city's Master Plan rejected such development for that tract.

Perhaps the county commissioners have now seen the light. If so, deeds, not words, are in order. The first such deed would be to secure a reversal of the school board's decision with respect to the location of a senior high school.

We Are Concerned

To the Editor:

Another primary and another election are approaching. The candidates are ready to descend upon us with promises and assurances that we can entrust to them the vital interests of our community. Yet, the regrettable truth is that, except for our mayor and certain of our councilmen, there is no incumbent who can stand on his record respecting the city and citizens of Greenbelt. When we needed them in our times of trouble, they were not there.

They never really are—between elections.

The catalogue of our ills is imposing and comprises the Springhill Lake traffic situation, repeated adverse zoning decisions by county commissioners, the school site decision which threatens the physical and fiscal integrity of Greenbelt, the irresponsibility of our elected representatives, etc.

The cruelest of all our afflictions, and symptomatic of the rest, concerns the school site. The school site decision was a political one, made by politicians. Yet not one politician, not one of our elected representatives, used his or her delegated power to demand or require the politically appointed members of the school board to reverse themselves. When asked for their help, they responded with shameless cynicism, thereby declaring their own personal irresponsibility. To have our delegates, our commissioners, declare themselves impotent and helpless is indeed remarkable.

Now, when they come to us for our votes, let us again ask of each delegate and each commissioner: Where were you when we needed your help - what did you do for us then?

A loaded question, isn't it? The writer has personally asked this of a number of office holders who will return for our votes. He has heard nothing but embarrassing evasions and the classical excuses in avoidance of responsibility.

Now that we know what our candidates did for us . . . or more aptly . . . to us, we should enquire as to what they will next offer in return for our votes. Lest it be concluded that we distrust only incumbents, let us further ask of all candidates the following:

1. Will you give us a full and complete investigation of the recent School Board decision?

2. Will you use the power of your office, delegated to you by the people, to compel a reversal of this unconscionable decision as repugnant to the American tradition of local self-government?

3. Will you give us an elected school board?

4. Will you give to Greenbelt control over its own affairs and the authority to regulate its own planning and zoning?

These are questions that deserve explicit answers and we must demand them.

A number of candidates, declared or aspiring, are fellow Greenbelters. Let us expect them to take a public and forthright stand with their reaction to the issues set forth above.

It is now they must speak out for Greenbelt.

Employment will begin early in June. Work available includes general labor, positions as warehouse helpers, clerk typists, and helpers in the photographic laboratory, library and print shop. All recruiting will be handled through offices of the United States Employment Service. Interested applicants are expected to contact their local USES office.

Memorial Day Incident

To the Editor:

I want to commend Officer Fuca for the fine way he handled the unpleasant happening at the Memorial Day service in the Center. Too, I would like to shake the hand of the young father who was so willing to "stand up and be counted" the few seconds before the officer appeared.

This has been my country for forty-five years and my town for thirteen. I do not appreciate persons of the agitator's character, either in my country or my town.

The Police Blotter

Memorial day services were marred by a heckler demonstrating against the war in Vietnam. The young man, carrying signs crying for peace in Vietnam, was asked by the police to leave several times. Finally an officer had to arrest him for disorderly conduct. Also causing a disturbance at the service, a dog of a local citizen accosted a young lady walking her dog and bit both of them.

GIRL SCOUTS NEED HELP!

Help! Our girl scout troop (95) needs a leader. Someone to lead a lively, cheerful troop for next year, starting next September. Some of the activities of our troop are hiking, camping, badge groups and patrol work.

We will be very grateful to anyone who answers this plea. Please call Mrs. Sisco at 474-7461 or Mrs. Jessie Brosmer, Service Unit Chairman, at 345-9599.
